Warm welcome for Morton

Margaret Modin was among the many supporters who welcomed Alberta Progressive Conservative leadership candidate Ted Morton to the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre.

Ted Morton plans Alberta's future

By VICKI BROOKER

Staff Writer

Provincial Progressive Conservative leadership candidate Dr. Ted Morton received a warm "welcome back" in Elk Point on Friday night, when he came to town to outline his plan to strengthen Alberta's future. He first visited Elk Point earlier this year as guest speaker at the Salute to the Energy Sector in May.

Morton was elected as the first MLA for Foothills – Rocky View in 2004, and is a member of the province's standing policy committee.

MLA Ray Danyluk called Morton, "a listener. Before action or decision-making, he listens. He has a tremendous ability for research, works well with individuals and groups and has an excellent ability to communicate. He's a natural leader."

Morton expressed optimism for Alberta's future.

"It's important to remember that the problems we have are the consequence of good news. The future is ours if we make the right choices." Alberta has "no debt and no deficit, and our resources are the envy of the other provinces," Morton said. "It's a pro-growth environment, and with our human resources, it's a business environment."

Morton promised to "keep taxes low. We must be disciplined on spending."

He has a "very specific approach on health care. We have to allow more choice." This, he said, would involve supplementing the existing system with private insurance and allowing private clinics to deliver some services to reduce wait times.

"I'm different from the others," Morton said. "I'm the only one to make a priority of the issues between the province and Ottawa." The problems between the two levels of government date back to the National Energy Policy, Morton said, "and the principle is still there. They still take resource revenue from the west."

Morton is concerned that massive transfer payments are harming Alberta's economy.

"The next leader has to say, 'leave more money in Alberta.' There is infrastructure that our people need and are never going to get. Let us build the infrastructure so that when new people come to Alberta we can accommodate them."

Morton feels this would also help the labour market.

Allied Arts ready to raise big money

By VICKI BROOKER

Staff Writer

Elk Point Community Choir, an integral part of the Elk Point and District Allied Arts Society, are right on target with their 2007 dinner theatre presentation. It's called "Tons of Money," and if past productions are any indication, the comedy, enhanced with locally-written musical numbers, will bring in just that. Tickets went on sale Wednesday morning, and Don Conrad told the noon meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce that his phone "started ringing at 6 a.m. I've sold over 600 tickets already today."

Conrad visited the chamber to outline the society's plans for conversion of the warehouse portion of the Northern Lights Library System building into a community cultural centre capable of seating 500 people.

"It's definitely not a choir thing," Conrad clarified, "and we won't be competing with existing facilities. It will house larger groups such as very large weddings that are now going out of town." Everything from Ukrainian Dance competitions to high school graduation to the Northern Lights

Library Conference could easily be accommodated, and the society also plans to join the Alberta Performing Arts to bring in cultural groups. A visual arts group wants to join the society and the University of Alberta has inquired into the possibility of holding a youth drama camp in the facility.

The stage size is based on the requirements for major dance troupes with up to 30 members, he added. "This facility will be able to accommodate everything from martial arts to fine arts."

The transformation from a warehouse to a first-class performance facility will not come cheap. Conrad says estimates, based on comparable facilities, are around $2.4 million for the total project. He assured the chamber that the renovations have not been tendered, as this will have to wait until funding is available.

"MLA Ray Danyluk has set aside $500,000 in a matching grant," Conrad told the chamber. "Now we need to match that. With the grant and matching funds, we can get the building into a usable state. The esthetics can come later."

Early contacts with corporate sponsors have brought "indications of a positive response," and Conrad said individuals and groups have also indicated they would support the project financially. "There is potential for a $1.6 million non-matching grant as well."

Professional fundraiser Darcy Acton has been contracted to work on grant applications and the society's application for charitable status, Conrad said.

The Town of Elk Point and the County of St. Paul are very supportive of the project, he added. "I'm really pleased, the municipalities are very progressive."

While no timeline has yet been established for the project, Conrad said, "it would be wonderful if we could call it the Elk Point Centennial Centre."

Elk Point will remember

Elk Point's 'We Remember' committee invites the public to join them to remember all those who served their country in wartime and peacekeeping missions.

Remembrance Day observances will begin at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, November 11, when groups and individuals are invited to gather at the cenotaph for opening ceremonies and the laying of wreaths.

Everyone will then move inside the Elk Point Seniors' Recreation Centre for the two minutes of silence at 11:00 a.m., followed by the rest of the program and a light lunch.

The Review's tribute to these brave men and women begins on Page 6 of this issue.

Morton planning Alberta's future

"We need workers, but the transfer payments are keeping them in eastern Canada."

Morton spoke of ways his government would "take more control."

Under an Alberta pension plan, "seniors would get what they have coming to them, and it could reduce contributions so that young people would have money to invest." Collecting our own taxes, adding provincial police to supplement the RCMP, and taking more control of health care were also on Morton's agenda.

Bringing "more accountability and responsibility to Edmonton" is another goal.

"After 35 years of one party, the government has developed a lot of bad habits. I'm committed to democratic reform." Fixed election dates and term limits are part of building "a more open, transparent and accountable government,"

Morton said. "We should do this because it's right, and because it's good politics. I want to make our party the champions of democratic reform."

The provincial Conservative membership numbers are "shockingly low," Morton said, and vote totals have dwindled accordingly. "There were 200,000 fewer voters in 2004 than in 2001. Half of them stayed home and half went to the new party." He questioned why people would want "to belong to a party that only wants your money and your vote," and suggested the membership "should create signposts and principles."

The decline in membership "is not just a rural thing," Morton said, predicting that, "vote-splitting could be the end of the PCs."

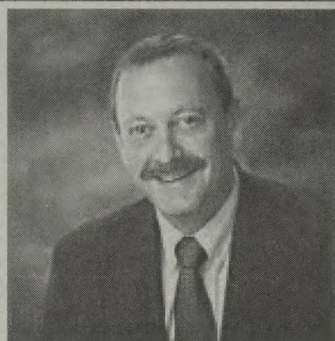

Rather than the status quo of "backroom boys and influence-peddlers," Morton said he wants "a party of reform and renewal. We need to reconnect with Albertans in hockey arenas and coffee shops to create a good, sound government that Albertans deserve."

Revenue and royalty sharing, the agricultural market outlook, surface rights and the friction between the agriculture and energy sectors, the viability of the rural economy, casinos, the justice system and the welfare of seniors all came to the fore during the question period that followed the presentation.

Progressive Conservative members will cast their first votes for their choice of eight leadership candidates on November 25. Unless one of the eight gets 50 percent plus one of the votes, the three candidates receiving the most votes will be on a second ballot for December 2. At that time, voters will mark their first, second and third choices, and if there is once again not a clear majority, ballots for the third place candidate will be allotted to the other two on the basis of those voters' second choices. Lac La Biche - St. Paul constituency has five polling stations, including one at the Elk Point Seniors' Recreation Centre, and there will also be an advance poll in St. Paul. Both votes are for provincial Progressive Conservative members only.

Extravaganza activities growing

By VICKI BROOKER

Review Staff

The program for Elk Point's Christmas Extravaganza expanded last week.

Chamber of Commerce president Sandy Smith told last Wednesday's meeting that the events lineup now includes not only a hockey shoot-out and hockey competition, but also the crowd-pleasing "Dance Heads" attraction that proved to be an outstanding success at this summer's Clandonald Fair.

"Dance Heads" is fun for the whole family, and participants leave with a CD showing their head paired up with a body that makes smooth dance moves to sound track music.

Donations toward Extravaganza are starting to come in, and planning for the various events is well underway. The only major problem at this point is to determine the best way to heat the outdoor stage, since the planned radiant heating requires more clearance than the stage allows.

The next Extravaganza meeting is set for Thursday, November 9 at 7 p.m. in the Elk Point Public Library.

Lest we forget

Elk Point has a long-standing tradition surrounding Remembrance Day. We ignore the often frigid weather to bank the handsome cenotaph, dedicated to the men and women of this area who were proud to serve our nation in past conflicts. We stand at attention as a bugler plays Taps and Reveille before and after the two minutes of silent remembrance.

Remembrance is easy for our seniors, who can still recall the days of hardship and separation when our servicemen and women were overseas serving our country. It is more difficult for the baby boomers, but they can likely remember the stories their parents told of wartime, and some may even recognize the songs of Vera Lynn and the Andrews Sisters that their parents played as they reminisced about wartime. Many baby boomers are also old enough to have some memories of the Korean war era, and virtually all will remember hearing of the horrors of Viet Nam.

Younger generations have only known peace - the peace that the older generations fought and died for, so that we should enjoy safe, secure lives. Their memory of war comes from history books, television movies, and the very valuable memories that were passed down to them by the local Royal Canadian Legion, which, like the armed forces veterans who created it, has also been laid to rest.

Let us never forget that they did their best, not only to serve their country, but to preserve the memories.

It is our torch now. We must carry it forward.

Way Back When...

New federal riding, new school

HERE'S THE MEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND THE LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF NOVEMBER 7 IN...

1986

A drainage easement which had caused a minor furor at a recent pre-election forum was nothing new, according to Town administrator Pat Vincent, who traced the problem back to 1966, and said the original ditch had not had an easement either. The Town of Elk Point presented a brief to the Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission asking that the town and surrounding townships be left in the Vegreville riding rather than becoming part of the proposed new Beaver River constituency.

1991

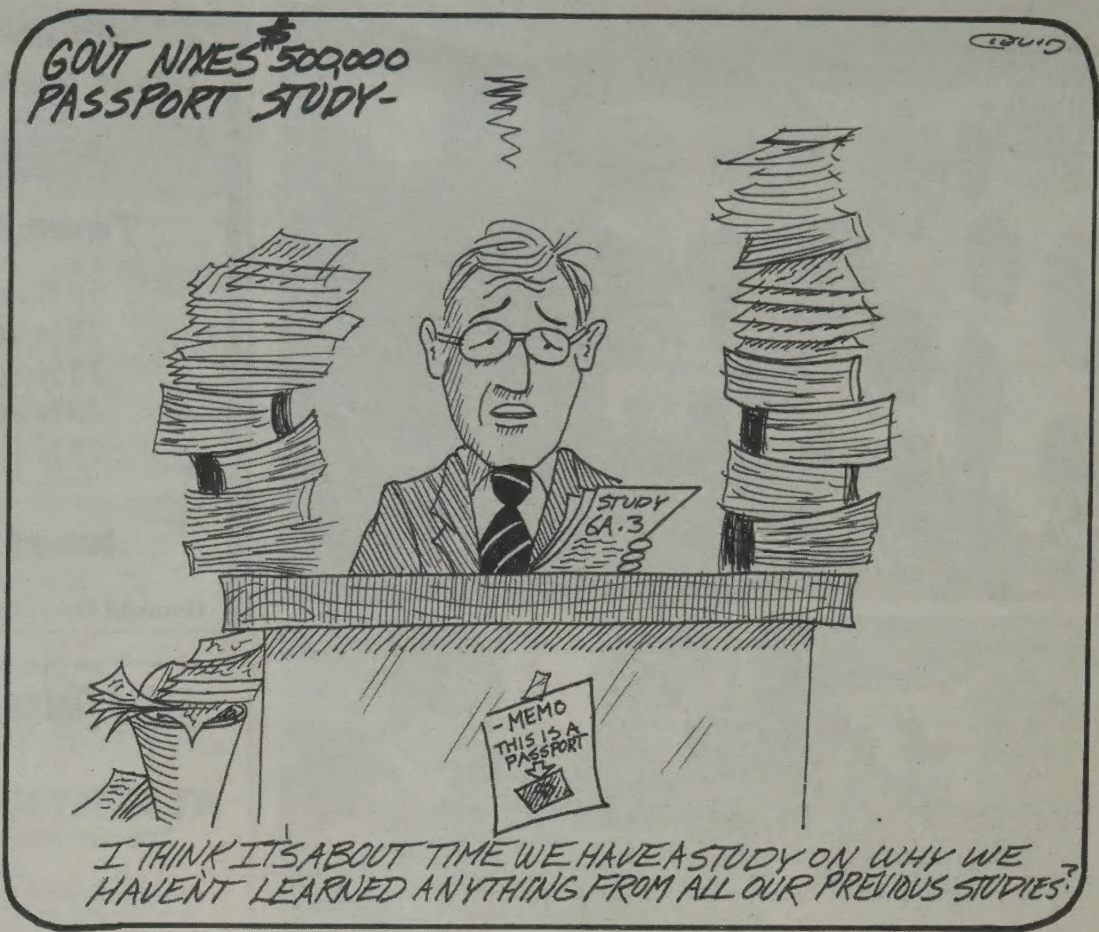

Supreme Honoured Royal Lady Judy Gillis was welcomed to the Elk Point Order of Royal Purple meeting by Honoured Royal Lady Mary Kryvenchuk. The Town of Elk Point marked the completion of the children's playground at the Rec Land and two years of work on Mural Park, both financed in large part by grants.

1996

Eight Elk Point businesses took part in the St. Paul/Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Association's small business showcase, with two of them, Linwood Arts and Pioneer Radio Control, nominated for the prestigious Entrepreneur of the Year award. Elk Point Midget Thunder had a three-point weekend with a win and a tie, with Brad Pankiw providing five goals in the two games.

2001

Frog Lake First Nations officially opened their new Chief Napewaew Comprehensive School, which could accommodate more than twice the 300 students enjoying the pleasant new facility. Only two people turned out for the first of four Future Summit information meetings aimed at advising the public on ways to give input to the Alberta government on ways to manage money in it's "debt-free" future.

GUEST COLUMN

Let us remember

This coming Saturday is November 11, Remembrance Day. Every year on November 11, Canadians pause in a silent moment of remembrance for the men and women who have served and continue to serve our country during times of war, conflict and peace. We honour those who fought for Canada in the First World War (1914-1918), the Second World War (1939 -1945) and the Korean War (1950-1953) as well as those who have served since then. More than 1,500,000 Canadians have served their country in this way, and more than 100,000 have died. They gave their lives and their futures so that we may live in peace.

deanna EASTHOPE
from the FCSS desk

How do we remember? On November 11, especially, but also throughout the year, we have the opportunity to remember the efforts of these special Canadians. In remembering, we pay homage to those who respond to their country's needs. On November 11, we pause for two minutes of silent tribute, and we attend commemorative ceremonies in memory of our war dead. This is important to remember. After all, they fought to preserve a way of life, Canadian values, and the freedom we enjoy today and often take for granted. Remember that the silence is to honour their sacrifice and memory.

Poppies are worn as the symbol of remembrance, a reminder of the blood-red flower that still grows on the former battlefields of France and Belgium. During the terrible bloodshed of the second Battle of Ypres in 1915, Lieutenant- Colonel John McCrae, a doctor serving with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, wrote of these flowers which lived on among the graves of dead soldiers.

In Flanders fields, the poppies blow
Between the crosses row on row,
That mark our place: and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard among the guns below.
We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Lt.-Col. John McCrae, MD (1872-1918),
Canadian Army

In Elk Point the "We Remember" Committee under FCSS and given direction from the St. Paul Royal Canadian Legion Branch has organized the Elk Point remembrance. Opening ceremony and laying of wreaths will begin at 10:30 a.m. in front of the Elk Point Cenotaph. The program will then move inside for the 11:00 a.m. moment of silence followed by the rest of the program and a light lunch.

assistance in locating them. One is a new novel by Maeve Binchy, "Whitehorn Woods," which has been missing since Information Night and may have been dropped while packing out or went home with someone by mistake. The other very important book is "The Land of Red and White", the Heinsburg history book that is no longer in print and is a very important source to our library..

Lions roar to championship

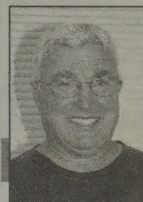

It's official. The St. Paul Lions football team are the Kings of the Jungle after devouring the Wainwright Bisons 28 to 0 this past Saturday and were crowned the 2006 Wheatland league Champions.

Elk Point's defensive star Corey Smereka, scooping up a fumble in the Wainwright end zone for one of the touchdowns. A great game by Elk Point native quarterback Tyson Proskiw, passing to slot backs Randy Merkel in the end zone, then handing off to Adam Hymanyk who rushed in to the end zone for two touchdowns. Congratulation to all the other Elk Point boys who contributed as well.

The Lions will now travel to Wetaskiwin for the first round of provincials. And here's some advice for all of you: "Cars cost less in Wetaskiwin, guys." Cars may cost less there, but you'd better learn how to run through the jungle. "GO LIONS GO!"

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week: "It's the nuts and bolts time of year and we don't have enough nuts and bolts." Last week's answer to: "Biologically I'm ten. Chronologically I'm thirty-three. In hockey years, I'm sixty-six." - Mark Messier in 1994, the year he led the New York Rangers to their first Stanley Cup in 54 years.

The hockey report

Looks like these little guys will be logging a lot of ice time this year, the "Magnificent Seven," the Micro Novice Tornados playing at home with only seven players in their line up on Saturday morning and winning 9 to 3 over Dewberry. Hayden Gunderson with 5 goals, Ross Hawryluk with a hat trick, Chad Poitras with a single and Nolan Lowry getting an assist. Dustin Pankiw, Julia Mountain and Chase Dorey were all playing in their first hockey game ever.

A really good effort for the Novice Hurricanes playing in their first game of the season at home and losing a close one to Kitscoty on Saturday morning. Brodin Ference and Dylan Odaaga did all the scoring for the Hurricanes, Ryan McGee playing net in his very first game was doing a awesome job of minding the fort. Next weekend the Hurricanes travel to Dewberry.

The Atom Avalanche played in their first league game of the season knocking of the Glendon Vultures 7 to 4. Logan "Back checker" Becker scoring a natural hat trick. Logan was on defense for this game and was given the green light to rush by the coaching staff, which obviously he did very well. Jared McGilvery adding two, Colin Nazarchuk finding the mesh with one and Rylan Buffalo with a goal and an assist. Reil Lowry with her first point of the season also assisting. "Stingy Vinge," goaltender "Mr. Scrooge" Braden Vinge was not giving out any presents in this one.

The Pee wee Avalanche is a young team, most of their players are first year aged pee wees and that means they will take some lumps and bumps this year but I'm sure they will improve with time. Playing in a tournament in Mallaig, the score was close in their first game losing to Boyle. Four goals for "Dan the Man" Daniel Garrett, a single for Louis Dion. The second game against Llyodminster was, how would you say it nicely, not so close. Then on Sunday morning the shift "Dan the man" with two more in a much better game.

It's been a few years since we've been able to ice a midget team in Elk Point, but with the hard effort of some parents it has happened, a combined team of Elk Point and Dewberry boys, some of whom played on last year's provincial-winning bantam team. It was a tough weekend for the boy though, losing to Mannville on Saturday, Chevy Botting with both goals, then on Sunday the boys losing to Mallaig, Colby Cardinal with two, Chevy Botting and Ian Jurak adding singles. This coming Friday night the midget boys will be playing right here in Elk Point, just like to good old days. Come on out and show your support for the boys. Game time is 8p.m.

In girls action, the Midget Storm took to the ice for the first time this year hosting the Cold Lake Freeze in a very entertaining Sunday afternoon matinee that ended in a two-all tie. Catharine "the Great" Campbell scored with only three seconds left on the clock in the first period to open up the scoring assisted by Sarah Proski. The Freeze tied the game up in the second, then scored on the power play early in the third to take the lead, before the Storm's Mindy Meger deaked the Freeze goalie right out of her you know what on a breakaway to tie the game. Between the pipes for the Storm, returning for another season, Amber Axley looked just as sharp as ever. And welcome to Kaitlyn Roberts who was playing in her first hockey game ever.
